

Back to Work

Back to Life

The Heal iD smartphone app transforms Covid-19 isolation and lockdowns into busy offices and personal meetings!

SAFE.
SIMPLE.
SECURE.

Heal iD

Heal ID is a global, borderless, privacy-preserving platform. With a simple, device-to-device QR-code anybody can verify whether a party's counterpart is sufficiently immune or not.

The Power of Decentralized Technology

Heal iD is the safe way to go back to offices, workplaces, to have business meetings, and to freely interact with business partners and colleagues again.

A scan of a Heal ID barcode lets anybody check anybody else' functional immunity status, without revealing identities. It works with the standard and certifier of your choice – even your own!

➤ Private

Encrypted, private, and without need for tracing, or trusting middlemen.

➤ Flexible

Adjusts to new tests, standards, and scientific findings, including your own.

➤ Easy to use

Point and look, not even requiring a click.

➤ Empowering

Leaves the individual in charge, sharing your data only with your consent.

➤ Inclusive

Protects anyone, anywhere, including high-risk people and your community

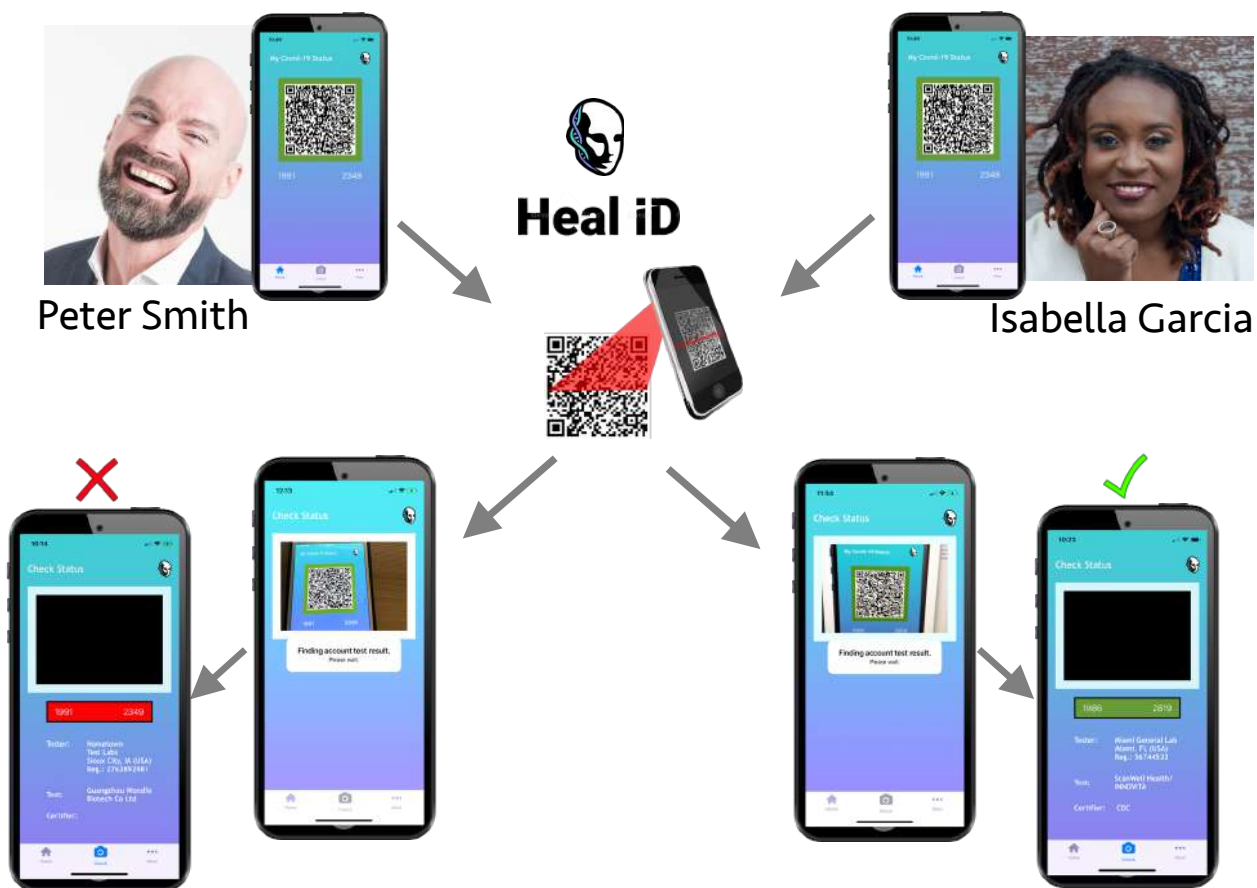

Only Smartphone Required!

- No infrastructure investment
- No interfaces

Know & Verify

- When entering an office building, warehouse, or other workplace.
- When meeting customers, partners, or having business meetings.
- When traveling, training, or attending events with others.

Although Peter was tested, test results are not up to his workplace' standards. He will have to continue social distancing, but he can meet with functionally immune colleagues.

Isabella's scan reflects acceptable test results suggesting likely functional immunity. She is free to go to sit, meet, and work closely with anybody.
